ALBERT HAYFORD HEATH.

[Continued from 1st page.]

was sung by the male quartette. President Buckham of the University of Vermont then spoke tenderly upon the meaning and uses of sorrow.

Among other things, Dr. Buckham said, "Not to sorrow is not to have loved. If any can say that no sorrow is like my sorrow, then that means that no love is like my love. The gospel says, 'weep that we should show our loss by our

"It is in your hearts to say, 'Tell us as you did. He will be remembered in his own home for long years to come, he friends from abroad, these fraternities, these members of the Christian church, these friends from other churches, all know their loss. His death is our loss, and each and every one it asked to say what is in their hearts today would say, 'He helped me.'

They sorrow as those who have hope. A hopeless sorrow is too sad to contem plate, while a sorrow with hope is Christian. It is better for those who remain to rest in such hope. We are interested in the life to come because so many of our friends are there. Every time one of is a bond of union betweeen our souls and from us goes up many precious thoughts. You sorrow with hope. Therefore comfort one another in these words

After the prayer by Dr. Buckham, Rev. Thomas Tyric, pastor of Grace Methodist church, read in a most beautiful manner the poem, "A Dream," written by Dr. Heath about a year ago and which is printed elsewhere. A quartette consisting of Mrs. Hazen, Messrs. Tyler, Silsby and Brooks then sang "Crossing the Bar." Rev. Dr. Edward T. Fairbanks, pastor of the South church, fol-

No moaning of the bar, and no elaborated words. The one whose voice is stilled would not wish them; the one who speaks is not equal to them. Indeed we just now had it from the Holy Book-"Be still and know that I am And truly we feel as dumb men, Yet with hushed breath we have been saying to ourselves or to one another why did this have to be? so suddenly and so soon. And we are not the first to face such difficulties. How often the psalmists and Bible men were perplexed at what seemed to be a wrong issue of things. And the mystery repeats itself in every generation.

Somewhere in that deeply spiritual record entitled, "Memorials of a Quiet Life," reference is made to the sudden removal of Dr. Arnold from the Rugby school. The tidings had just reached Hurstmanceaux rectory, and if I remem-Providence that just when a great good is to be done the person to do it utterance, some confidently spoken trust in God. Rarely hasit ever been more finely spoken than by Charles Kingsley, robust of body and brain, but in the grip of the last struggle steadily repeating the low refrain, "It is right- all as it should beright-all under ruk-all right-all as it should be-I know it must be right because it is so strange-and painful." The very mystery and painfulness of his situation made the dving man sure that a Divine wisdom and love must be in it all. Because it is so hard it must be all right. This that I have read of Kingsley came to mind at once when the words o our dear Brother Heath were reported to me. It was decided that he must go through a painful and serious crisis. He simply said, "It all right whatever happens-my trust is in the Lord-I can look God in the face—he knows my life has been spent in his service." With these words of his, as it were a last message to us all, mine might now well come to an

On the life calendar of this church what memories you have for the 17th of March. A gray day, clouds on the zenith, but a day rimmed with golden light on the far horizon-March 17, 1888, March 17, 1899. A day when the knightly and noble soul who all his years had builded strength and beauty into his life (as into this sanctuary) was caught up from the city by the sea to the City that hath foundations whose builder and maker is God. A day when the loving and lovable minister leading his flock with the ardor and joy of Christian fellowship in green pastures, beside still waters, was lifted up to be led unto living fountains of waters by the hand of his Redeemer. How quickly he went from his last ministry with you at this communion table to sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Iacob in the kingdom of Not yet five years had he been your minister, but it was long enough to endear himself to you and to all of us. We did not guess what was coming with gained strength for mature manhood, speedy tulniment when he remarked in the midst of his first days here, "I've come to live and die in St. Johnsbury. But we can now truly say it was happy day for St. Johnsbury when he came; and every day since the place has felt the influence of a goodly presence, syllable full of childhood music. enriching its life, brightening its atmos-We say of our town as the traveler sang of the old world city where Albrecht Dürer lived and died

Fairer seems the ancient city, and the sucshine seems more fair,

"That he once has trod its pavements, that he once has breathed its air!"

I was asking myself last evening what one word, if any, would characterize our brother as we all knew him. At once the word rose to view. I had only to change the last two letters of his name penciled on the bit of paper HEATH, and after it HEART, And foundation" and the closing prayer and this last was his name to me. He was | benediction, also by Dr. Fairbanks. the man of heart, of deep affectionate His bodily frame was not inferior, he stood amongst us with ample and goodly presence: nor was his intellect | G. Spencer, Elmore T. Ide, Emerson Hall, inadequate or commonplace, it was easily at home in wide fields of thought H. Cross, W. P. Smith, Henry C. Newell, first and always in him was the affec- Men's Club served as ushers at the tionate nature, the great heart that was | church. sovereign in him and that made him what he was. And in all my thought today I seem to be saluting the memory of a dear heart which never failed of loving and being loved. Like a precious stone with facets, there were many sides to it, many hearts in one. A tender heart. Tender toward God. toward men. The spirit of a gentle mother whose face he could only just remember, rested upon him. Thesprings of with those that weep, and He who feeling within responded quickly to the stood at the open grave of his friend said, atmosphere about him. The overflow of 'Weep on.' Let affection, memory, rever- a tender heart welled easily up to his ence have their natural outflow. All this eyes. Very tender he was in feeling and is human; all this is wholesome; all this interest and care for other people; is christian because it is human. When especially for such as were out of the a friend of the public, a pastor of a way, and for all who were in trouble. church and an influential factor in the How sympathetically he shared your community passes away it is natural pains and afflictions, how forbearing he was with any whose ways were a grief to him.

A stout heart. Tenderness was in all how much we have lost,' That, friends, his make up in so much that he was I cannot estimate. I did not know him excessively sensitive to pain. One who knew this well noticed when it was announced that surgery must be resorted will be talked of in your homes; these to, that his only answer was a smile and flowers which sometimes mean so little a resolute set of face "that made me and sometimes mean so much, these think God was in it." Now this was only a last expression of lifelong stoutness of heart. He began early to face difficulties and to conquer them. By dint of hard work with hand and brain he won his education. If a duty fronted him he grappled it quietly but forcefully, and held to it with stiff tenacity. So h came to be a strong man among the strong, and in the great cities where he lived before coming here he made his mark not only in church work, but in education, in civil life, in affairs. He had opinions of his own on almost every subject and spoke them out, never our friends passes through the vale there anxious to know who might or might not agree with him. Whatever he said and theirs and from them comes down or set himself to do, men knew a stout heart was behind all and would have its

> A true heart. True to conviction as needle to pole. There was nothing in him that seemed to be hid or needed to be. His heart was wide open and transparent and we could look down into it. We felt that we were welcome to know all that he thought, and like Whittier looking on the face of his friend

"We read his heart as one who reads A true and holy book.

A deep heart. We read his thought lowed with an address which is given in and feeling easily, but rarely suspected what resources were in him. He seemed so innocent of anything unexpressed that when gradually we discerned the increasing line of his reserves it was a genuine surprise. I used to note this in our ministerial association when it came his turn to speak; apparently he had not much to offer, so it seemed to him; but once started he moved with the gait of a master thro' whatever was before us, and fetched up from unsuspected deeps great wealth of facts, ideas and sentiment. How often you have seen him rise in this pulpit with a quiet opening of discourse that gave no hint at all of the fire and force and volume of heart thought that was coming presently. Two or three years ago at the State Convention of our churches in Bradford he was reading a paper on Essential Christian Doctrine. Suddenly he stopped in the midst, having overrun his time. But so intent and eager was ber rightly it was the saintly Maria the audience that the moderator could who could not help saying on the impulse speaker had to say on those profound of the moment, "Is it indeed a law of themes of sin and redemation. Remarkthemes of sin and redemption. Kemarkable variety and range too he had, seeming to be equally familiar with men or is taken away?" Of course, with the books, theology or horse lore, philosophy next breath some truer word would get or music, criticism or medicine, poetry or politics, mind work or hand work, in somuch that I bluntly asked bim once if there was anything under the sun that he didn't know all about. "O," he answered, "you go along, we don't know anything yet.

A bright heart. Heart sick he was at all the had there is in this world, enough of which he had had to see and fight against. But his heart was buoyant for he never would surrender his conviction that

"God's in his heaven— All's right with the world."

He was optimistic in the sense that the forces of evil must ultimately surrender to the grace of God working in the hearts of men. The dominant note of his ministry was good tidings, as you who sat under it always knew. More than once has his confident hopefulness braced me like a waft from the high hills and the horizon has seemed to brighten at his A warm heart-"full o' the milk of human kindness." Someone said he was gushing. Very good, there's need of that same thing. More expression of heart feeling will not hurt anybody; it will do us good like medicine as the Bible writer said. Our brother was very generous in heart, speech and act. His failings if you call them such, were on this warm side of his nature. He told me he couldn't resist some appeals which he rather thought he ought to. I didn't love him any the less for this sort of weakness. A child heart. Thro' all his years he kept that treasure. He was in close touch with the spirit of his sainted mother. He walked with God as a little child, "upright, simple, free from art." Like the child Samuel he heard God's "But you don't suppose that voice. was a real voice, do you?" "Why not," heaven, at the marriage supper of the said he. For his own spiritual life he read his mother's Bible literally, always bringing to it the simplicity of a child's laith, desiring the sincere milk of the word, to be nourished thereby. Thus he for tasks and hard experiences. When the hour for the last dread crisis came and he was taken apart to a room for it, before being put to sleep he asked a moment's space to say his little prayer, every word heartfelt, and every familiar

"Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep; If I should die before I wake, I pray, thee, Lord, my soul to take."

There was a brief awaking, a few quiet affectionate words; no scene, but the child heart rested securely in the heart of the Father Almighty. He looked his Father in the Jace, having faithfully striven to serve him all his life.

This was followed by scripture readings by Dr. Fairbanks, the singing by the audience of the hymn "How firm a

The funeral was in charge of William C. Tyler, the honorary bearers were the cons of the church, T. M. Howard, L. L. D. Hazen. The bearers were George and in mastery of different sorts of Robert Mackinson, John O. Hale and W. problems; but that which we recognized H. Preston. Members of the Young at the meeting.

The flowers with which the casket was laden were the choicest ever seen in St. Johnsbury. A large anchor was sent from Tabor academy, a cross of violets and white carnations from the Young Men's Club, a lyre of roses and smilax from the Odd Fellows, a pillow of lilies and maidenhair from the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, 58 bride roses (one for each year) from Plymouth church at St. Paul, a bunch of carnations from the St. Johnsbury W. C. T. U. Loving tributes from individuals, from friends the church and abroad included a large wreath from D. C. Heath of Boston, an ivy wreath, palm leaves, choice orchids, lilies, roses, carnations and violets.

Owing to the fact that the funeral was held on Sunday the clergymen from the surrounding towns were unable to be present. Among those from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Turner of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Wilbur of Phillips, Mc., E. G. Heath of Auburn, Me., Mrs. S. D. Sawin of Charlestown, Mass., Prof Dustin of Tabor academy, Marion, Mass , Pardon Macomber and William C. Parker of New Bedford, Mass.

The services at the cemetery were in charge of the Odd Fellows, who with the Junior Order of United American Mechanies acted as escort in the procession The body was deposited in the receiving vault, the casket being covered with the floral offerings.

An Interpretation.

They stood beside him ere he fell on sleep,
The grave physicians, and he bade them stay
The gracious veiling of his conscious day.
Not that he feared to try the stormless deep
Where clouds of mercy round the spiritsweep,
But not alone may stoutest heart essay
The bands of transient death! He paused

And knew that God the slumbering sou would keep.

He prayed the prayer of childhood, softly learned Beside the mother's knee, again a child!
But at the knee of God! and undefiled
With stain of manhood's struggle. Men have spurned

Their primal faith, but in his spirit burned
The prophet's vision, pure and unbeguiled

G. W. PATTERSON. Tributes to Dr. Heath.

Several of the local pastors referred to the death of Dr. Heath in their sermons last Sunday morning. The pastor of the South church spoke from the text, "the one shall be taken and the other left," and said that Dr. Heath's sudden death had suggested this thought for the paid the following tribute: "It is only right and proper that at this particular time we should pause for a moment and recognize the fact that during the week just passed, one was called out of our midst very suddenly, whose scholarship and culture, whose large-heartedness and genial disposition, and whose manly and noble character as a christian minister and friend we all shall miss, and who will be a public loss to our town. But let us humbly bow to Divine Providence, since God and not man, always does that which is best."

Rev. M. H. Mill, rector of St. Andrew's

Church Notes.

The ladies of the Universalist parish Hare (some one at any rate of the family) not deny them the satisfaction of all the will serve in their vestry the last clam March 28, from 6 to 7.30 p. m., after which a varied entertainment and a social hour will be enjoyed. You are cordially invited.

> First Church of Christ, Scientist, Odd Fellows' Block, Sunday morning service at 10.45, subject, "Unreality." Children's Sunday school at 12 m. Wednesday evening meeting at 7.30. Reading room open Wednesday and Thursday from 2 to 5 p. m. Those in attendance will be pleased to meet you. Come in.

The last of the lenten organ recitals will be held in St. Andrew's church at 4 o'clock, Saturday, March 25. The programme will be as follows: Praeludium II. Puga II., F Mendelssohn Marche Pontificale, F. de la Tombelle

C. Saint-Saens

The Ladies' Industrial Circle of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Hurlbutt Thursday afternoon. The monthly social is postponed for a month | The Bicycle Business. by reason of an unusual amount of sickness among the members.

The subject of discourse next Sunday the Crucified," and in the evening, "The Blessed Dead."

"A man who was Peasant and Prince, Shepherdand Soldier, Poet and Patriot,' will be the topic of the lecture at Grace Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday evening, by Rev. Mr. Tyrie.

"The Relation of Jesus to the Problem of Salvation" will be the theme of the morning discourse at the church of the Messiah next Sunday.

The Talent social of the Y. P. C. U. o the church of the Messiah was very successful in every way. The programme was varied and interesting, the poetical tales of the talents were well told, and the financial results sufficient to remove the incumbrance upon the piano.

The ladies of the Free Baptist church will have a social at Francis Switser's, 28 Cliff street, Thursday evening, March 23. Supper at 6 o'clock. You are cor- Browne sold 70 wheels last year. dially invited.

The North church pulpit was occupied on Sunday morning by President Buckham of the University of Vermont who preached a scholarly sermon from the text, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." His salient points were (1) the gospel enters beneficently into our natural life; (2) the true christian life is expansive and not repressive; (3) the true christian life is prospective and not retrospective; (4) the christian life is a life of accumulation and not of exhaustion; (5) the christian life isa life

An Annual Sweetening.

Green Mountain Lodge, N. E. O. P., gave an entertainment to members and invited friends at the close of their meeting Saturday evening. The programme was all very enjoyable, especially the song by the boys' quartette. The sugar was the best, and all made a pleasant evening. The Order is baving a steady growth, nine applications being received #### Revolutionary Daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hazen were "at home" to the St. John de Crêvecoeur Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and to a few friends who were known to be eligible to be members of the D. A. R. or the Sons of the American Revolution, on Thursday evening, March 16.

At the end of the parlor as one entered was hung a portrait, painted in 1802, of Capt. Josiah Tilden, grandfather of P. F. Hazen, above which was hung a flag. Capt. Tilden was a revolutionary soldier of Hartford and born in 1760.

Mrs. Hazen had as a special guest a "real daughter" of the chapter, Mrs. Sarah Tilden Hazen, mother of Perley F. and George E. Hazen of this place. received hearty congratulations on this occasion and showed to admiring friends her gold spoon, which is presented to all daughters of revolutionary heroes.

All the guests being seated, they listened to a short programme, Mrs. Hazen as regent presiding. She spoke of the chapter and its work the past year and introduced the others on the programme. The causes of the revolution were well defined by Mrs. Elisha May. This was followed by a recital of Holmes' 'Ballad of the Boston Tea Party" by Miss Woodruff and the singing of "The Old Thirteen" by P. F. Hazen.

Mrs. Hazen then gave in a very informal and interesting manner a running account of the eighth continental congress at Washington, Feb. 20-25, to which as regent of the chapter she went as a delegate. Sousa's "Stars and Stripes" was played by Miss Mabel French, after which Senator Ross was unexpectedly called upon and made a short and extremely interesting address upon the significance of the revolutionary war and the more recent war with Spain, expressing the thought that a greater hand than any human one was guiding the affairs of this nation and working out great problems of state-

Refreshments were served, a social time enjoyed, and a cordial invitation given to all the ladies present to become members of the chapter.

All present expressed their anxiety for Dr. A. H. Heath, whose illness seemed to be severe. As an invited guest and as a Son of the American Revolution, as well as a friend of all present, his name was often spoken during the evening and held in tender remembrance.

Business Notes.

Amos W. Scott is now comfortably located in his new store in the Drouin block and he has a capacious and welllighted store. The main room contains gents' furnishings and boots and shoes, while a cosy room in the basement is used for clothing.

George C. Cary has decided to close out his wholesale grocery business April 1, and after that date will devote his entire time to the interests of Martin L. Hall & Co., of Boston.

F. G. Bundy and C. B. Weeks have just emodeled the whole lower floor of the building at the back of Bundy's shoe store, and in so doing have finished off a cosy little office in one corner and so archowder supper of the season, Tuesday, ranged the rest of the floor that they can | land Haynes, 1902, Worcester. show to the best advantage the large stock of carriages and harnesses which they will have to display about April They have many of the best makes of carriages including several pneumatic and hard rubber tire patterns. The business will not take the entire time of either Mr. Weeks or Mr. Bundy from the shoe store but will be run in connection there-

Mrs. G. C. Weeks and Miss Bessie Meacham have returned from New York and are ready to supply their customers with the latest styles in dressmaking.

Miss Ella Williamson leaves this week for New York and Boston for the latest styles in millinery. Miss Alice Bacon, her trimmer, will return with her, E. C. Brooks has bought out the tailoring establishment of W. H. Kenyon at Newport and will send his assistant Mr. Broudiur there to manage the business. Ar. Hudson will do the cutting for both places.

The material decrease in price of all standard wheels for the season of 1899 morning will be "The Attractiveness of has given a stimulus to the bicycle trade and the dealers anticipate a lively business this spring. The proposed path to Lyndonville will also help the sale of wheels in both St. Johnsbury and Lyndonville.

W. W. S. Browne has just finished some repairs on his store which gives him much more room in the repairing department and will greatly facilitate his work in this line. His line of wheels is extensive and well chosen. Among them are the Orients, $75, $65, $50, $40; Whites, $50; Pearless Bluebird $65, $50, $35; Peerless Triumph, $35; Imperial, $35; Duquesne, $35; Rumsey, $50, $30; Clipper, $75, $50, $40; Envoy, $50, $35; Fleetwing, $50, $35; Remington, $50, $35; Tourine, $35; Geneva, $25; Winnewood, $35; Fay juvenile line from $20 to $75. Mr

F. G. Bundy will handle one make this summer in the Hanover at $35. The Brooks-Tyler Dry Goods Co. have their bieyele department on the third floor and J. H. Brooks has a large and fine assortment to show intending purchasers. Following is a list of their wheels with prices: Rambler, $40 Ideal, $25, $30 and $35; Cleveland, $75. $50; Westfield, $35; Columbia, $50; Cresent, $60, $35; Tribune, $50; Stormer, $35; Mars, $25; Rochester, $60. In this line are several chainless machines of the standard makes. It business in this department continues as brisk as it has been the past month this firm will sell over 100 wheels this season. R. P. Kidder will handle two standard makes this season, the Pierce at $40 to $65, and the Crawford at $25 to $50. Longee Bros. & Smythe will handle three varieties, the Keating at $40 and $50, the Bostonian selling for $30, $35 and $40, and the Geneva at $25. Guy Batchelder in W. T. King's clothing store has secured the agency of the well-know Keating wheels and will carry all kinds of this popular make. Dr. George F. Cheney handles the Victor at $50 and $75, the latter being the chainless.

NEWS SUMMARY. NEW ENGLAND.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15. At the annual town election at Salmon Falls, N. H., William H. Morton was thosen town treasurer for the 50th consecutive year. The New Hampshire branch of the American Anti-Saloon league was organized at Manchester, under the direction of Howard Russell of Ohio. The Hotel Benedict, opened by the Salvation Army as a home for working girls, was dedicated at Boston. Colonels Cozens and Holz conducted the gervices.

The New Hampshire board of trade elected the following officers: President, M. J. Pratt of Concord; vice presidents, C. B. Childs of Henniker, T. H. Dearborn of Dover, W. H. Anderson of Exeter, H. H. Barber of Milford, F. C. Churchill of Lebanon and W. G. Africa of Concord; auditor, A. L. Clough of Manchester; secretary and treasurer, B. C. Ryder of Manchester.

Herbert C. Collar, '99, of Boston, has been elected to the captaincy of the Dartmouth athletic team left vacant by the resignation of T. W. Chase, '99.

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, The president of the Harvard University Republican club has received a telegram from General Nelson A. Miles, stating that he will be able to give an address at Cambridge on March 22.

The decision of Department Commander Harris to hold the next state encampment of the Vermont G. A. R. in Montreal will make an epoch in the distory of the order, as this encampment will be the first held by a state command outside of the prescribed limits of the Union. Professor Blackburn of the department of sociology in the Yale divinity school is planning for the annual tour of the theological students, both graduate and the present senior class, to the slums of New York. The leading eleemosynary and public institutions of aid and correction, hospitals, jails and public buildings will be visited, as well as the tenement house districts.

FRIDAY, MARCH 17. Attorney General Phelps of Connecticut has decided to ask the superior court to appoint a receiver for the Connecticut Life Insurance company of Waterbury. This is the outcome of the investigation held by Insurance Commissioner Betts.

Eugene A. Arnold, a well-known young business man of Foxcroft, Me., committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. It is not known what led to the suicide. The Hodgson and Holt Manufacturing company, Laconia, N. H., makers of hosiery and knitting machinery, have assigned. The liabilities of the company are about $50,000.

Orin Douglass, merchant, trading as bilities are $100,728.61, and assets are claimed nominally at $9158.

SATURDAY, MARCH 18. Frank Hill of Boston has been enraged to coach the Newell Boat club of Harvard university.

The editorial board of the Williams college weekly elected the following new members: T. Broadhurst, 1901, Springfield; Earl F. Drake, 1901, Chicago; Rol-

Amos W. Stetson of Braintree, Mass. has presented the trustees of Thaver public library with $2500, to be known as the "Caleb Stetson fund," in memory of his father.

The celebrated Haven case is finally settled by the New Hampshire supreme court construing the will so that Smith college will get $37,000. Joseph Weaver, 65 years of age, while assisting in moving a building at Damariscotta Mills, Me., was caught and instantly killed. Rev. A. H. Heath, D. D., pastor of the North Congregational church, St. Johnsbury, Vt., died after one week's illness of intestinal trouble. Dr. Heath was born in Salem, Me., July 19, 1840. SUNDAY, MARCH 19.

Lieutenant Little of Salem, Mass. quartermaster of the Second corps of cadets, has tendered his resignation and received his discharge. He was appointed quartermaster March 16, 1898. Persons claiming to be relatives of the late Father L. F. Bethezor of San Jose Cal., have been located in Worcester and Southbridge, Mass.; Woodstock, Conn.

and Providence. The estate is valued at Notice was posted by the Ponemah Mills company, Taftville, Conn., that be ginning April 3 the wages of the employes will be increased on a scale of from 5 to 10 percent. The company employs 1500 hands and manufactures white MONDAY, MARCH 20. Theodore Hobigand, for many years professor of languages at Brown university, died at Scituate, Mass., aged 7 years. He was a native of France. The Bean Memorial town hall of West Fairlee, Vt., was destroyed by fire, Jackson lodge of Masons had a hall in the building. They lose all their furniture, records and papers. H. E. Hamlin of Ellsworth, state senator from Hancock county, has announced his candidacy for the presidency of the Maine senate two years hence.

Thomas A. FitzGibbon, 36, a membe of the Hampden county bar, died at Springfield, Mass. He was an ardent Democrat.

The annual Yale-Harvard debate will take place in Cambridge on May 12. Andrew Dillon, a blacksmith, was found dead in a shop at Stamford, Conn. He was asphyxiated. The body of Alex. Buteau of Willimantic, Conn., who disappeared Jan. 7 was found last night in the Shetucket river, just above the dam at Baltic. TUESDAY, MARCH 21. The graduate advisory committee of the Yale university Y. M. C. A. re-elected Henry B. Wright, son of Dean Wright of the academic faculty, as secretary of the association. George W. Batchelder, son of the late

By the will of James P. Coonan of Lynn, Mass., the following bequests are made: Two hundred dollars to the Lynn hospital; $500 towards a parochial school in St. Joseph's parish, Lynn; $500 to the sisters of Notre Dame, Lynn; $200 to the sisters of charity, Boston. According to the official proclamation issued by Governor Lounsbury, Friday March 31, is to be observed as "Fast" day in Connecticut.

ROUND THE WORLD.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15. At a session of the Augustina synod at Rockford, Ills., Dr. P. J. Sward of Omaha, head of the Lutheran body in America, said farewell to the synod and to America. Dr. Sward has been called by the special request of King Oscar to the state church at Stockholm. The New York legislature passed the concurrent resolution calling upon the governor to invite the governors of other states to attend the pan-American exposition on the Niagara frontier in 1901. The Silk association of America has voted a further advance of 10 percent in the prices of their products.

Princess Louise of Coburg, daughter of the King of Belgium, who in January last left her husband, Prince Philip of Saxo-Coburg-Gotha, and eloped with an Austrian hussar officer, Lieutenant Mattachich-Koglevitch, has been delivered of a son at a sanitarium near Purkorsdorf, near Vienna.

The Kansas Southeastern railway has been formally transferred to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe. It is the intention of the Santa Fe to build the road south into the Indian Territory.

THURSDAY, MARCH 16. The principal English railway companies have resolved to dispatch agents to institute approval inquiry into the working of automatic couplings in the United States.

Arrangements have been made by the manager of the Cornell football eleven for a contest with the university of Chicago, to be played in Chicago some time next season.

John Collett, for many years state geologist of Indiana, died at Indianapolis, aged 71 years. Professor Collett was well known throughout the country. Papers were filed at Trenton increasing the capital stock of the Havana Electric Railway company from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Secretary Long has appointed a board of rear admirals to examine the officers recently promoted to the grade of rear admiral under the operation of the personnel act. The board comprises the only three officers who were previously of the rank of rear admiral available, namely: McNair, Howell and Howison.

FRIDAY, MARCH 17.

The Japanese government has requested China to sanction the appointment of a Japanese customs commissioner at Fu-Chau, capital of the province of Fo-Kien, on the Min river.

A plan is now being placed on paper in Maine to incorporate into one system the Moosehead and Sebastook, Wiscasset and Quebec, Waterville and Weeks Mills, Farmington and Waterville, Somerset, and possibly the Franklin system of railroads.

The Esperanza mine at El Oro, Mex., has been bonded to an English syndicate, O. Douglass & Co., Boston, has filed a | which puts up $100,000 forfeit money. petition in bankruptcy. The total lia- The price of the mine is fixed at $3,000,000 gold.

SATURDAY, MARCH 18.

The Johns Hopkins university is about to send two highly qualified pathologists to Manila, in order that they may study the characteristics of diseases prevalent in the tropics, by modern methods, clinical as well as pathological.

As a consequence of the increase in the price of steel and the consolidation of large steel and iron industries, the plow manufacturers of the United States are forming a combination. Captain Frank Wilds has been appointed commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, to succeed Captain Sumner, who has been promoted to rear admiral, A combination of decorated glass and metal lamp manufacturers is in process of formation.

SUNDAY, MARCH 19.

An official decree authorizes the school of mines at Paris to accept the gift of $5000 offered in February of last year by Dr. Thomas Egleston, emeritus professor of minerology and metallurgy of the school of mines, New York. .

The imports of dry goods and general merchandise at New York last week were valued at $9,965,207. The exports of specie were $1,503,455 silver and $5460 gold; imports were $106,179 silver and $33,854 gold.

A consolidation of Hudson river steamboat lines is in progress and a corporation to be known as the Central Hudson Steamboat company is being formed. The executive committee of the Lake Carriers' association will advance the wages of sailors $5 per month for the coming season. The advance applies to #### all kinds of labor on a vessel. MONDAY, MARCH 20.

Dr. Philip J. J. Valentini, the eminent student of Mexicana and author of numerous papers on ancient Mexican and Central American history, died at St. Luke's hospital, New York, position company elected John G. Milburn of Buffalo president. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul

The directors of the Pan-American exrailway announces that the wages of trackmen will be raised from $1.10 to $1.25 per day. The order affects 5000 men. The Shamrock hockey seven of Mon treal clinched their title to the champion ship of the world by winning the match from the Brooklyn Skating club team. Fully 200 Filipinos were killed in the fight with General Lawton's forces. It was one of the most disastrous experiences that they have yet had with the United States troops. General Wheaton's men chased the enemy for fully 11 miles, through all kinds of country, and their flight was changed into a disastrous rout.

A serious conflict between the police and people of Havana resulted in considerable shooting and clubbing. From 20 to 50 people were wounded, some seri

TUESDAY, MARCH 21. The Myers express bill was sent to engrossment by the Missouri house. The Winfield S. Schley has successfully passed the physical examination for promotion to the rank of rear admiral in the navy before a medical board convened at the Washington navy yard. To complete the legal test he must also pass a Water Registar George E. Batchelder moral, mental and professional exof Worcester, Mass., was elected to the position left vacant by his father's death. amination.

bill reduces rates almost one-half.

Commissioner Wilson of the internal revenue bureau holds that agents of express companies selling export money orders are not broke:s within the meaning of the war revenue act and therefore not subject to the special tax of $50 per annum.

Lenny of Philadelphia and Burke of Lowell fought 20 rounds to a draw at 122 pounds at Buffalo. Lenny had much the better of the early rounds.

BOSTON MARKET

Boston, March 21.-The butter market is fairly firm, with the best fresh creameries in rather small supply, and selling quite readily, if good enough, Still, a large supply of any sort of butter, or a market like the present, would result in lower prices: Best creamery, small lots and pkgs, 21@21%c; northern creamery, round lots, 201/2@21c; western, 20@201/2c; eastern, 20@201/2c; first, 17@18c; imitations, 15@16c; jobbers, 1/2c more. Cheese has continued very firm, with prices actually higher. The supply is small and well held: Round lots, 124/6 13c; sage, 13@13%c; jobbing, %c higher;

Liverpool, 51s 6d. Eggs are easy, with the demand limited to the few that can be quickly sold to the consuming trade. While the price is really pretty low for the season, there is a fear that it may soon go lower: Western fresh, 1414c; eastern fresh, 151/2 @161/c; southern, 14c; nearby and fancy, 18@20c; jobbing, 1@1%c more.

Beans are firm, with even higher prices quoted in the country, though this market is unchanged: Carload lots, pea, $1:25&1.37\frac{1}{2}; medium, $1.37\frac{1}{2}@1.40; yellow eyes, $1.55@1.60; red kidneys, $1.85@1.90; California small white, $1.90@2; Lima, 56 per lb; jobbing, 10c more. In the flour and grain trades the market is looking better, with well informed merchants looking for a still sharper reaction. In the first place, the millers had been indifferent to the lower prices of wheat, and had wired but little about either wheat or flour to their agents here, but later they are taking much greater interest. It is understood that the Minneapolis millers have taken a great deal of wheat within a day or two and that they are still ready to take all the cash milling wheat there is offered them at present prices. It is still a curi ous feature that cash wheat at Minneapolis is still at a premium over May.

The flour market is more active, on a rather lower basis of prices. The larger milling concerns have sold some flour within a couple of days, but scarcely at above $4.15 for the best known spring wheat patents, mill shipment prices Considerable flour was also sold at $4.10 while some of the cheaper spring wheat patents are quoted as low as $3.75. Mill shipment prices are also a little lower.

The meal and cereal markets are little changed, though rather easy, on the easier grain markets. The position of corn is a little better than a few days ago, though still considerably easier than a week ago. There is no particularly firm point in the situation, beyond the fact that a speculative turn has evidently begun. Oats have also shown some improvement, with options a shade firmer. Hay is quiet and fairly steady on the best grades, with low grades easy. Straw is quiet and fairly steady. Milifeed is fancy jobbing lots, $15@17; rye straw, $9 @9.50. Pork and lard are firmer, with fresh ribs firmer and advanced 4c. Hogs are firmer relatively than provisions. Hams quiet and rather easy: Hay, $8@14; are very firm. Boston packers have made a larger kill of hogs, the total for the week having been about 38,000; preceding week, 34,000; same week a year ago, 31,800. There is a fair movement going on, the total vaule of these exports for the week having been about $248,000; preceding week, $235,000; same week a year ago, $285,000. In the west the volume of pork packing has been somewhat reduced. The beef market has been rather dull. though there was a rather better trade recently. Quotations have settled somewhat during the week, and are firm now only on choice beef, which is scarce. The market on lambs, and muttons especially, has shown considerable improvement within two or three days, and higher prices are being obtained. Veals are also higher, though it is suggested that it can only be temporary. Lambs, 8469c: Brighton fancy, 84694c; muttons, 6@74c; Brighton and fancy muttons 7@84c; yeals, 7@10c; fancy Brigh-tons, 10@11c. Poultry is steady, with live poultry firm. Choice fresh chickens are very firm. Turkeys, western, 10@13c; northern, 12@16c; chickens, northern, 14@20c; western, 10@14c; fowls, northern fresh 9@16c; western, 10@12c; ducks, 9@12c; geese, 10@13c; live fowls, 10@12c. All the game in the market is in the hands of the jobbers and dealers, with very little coming in. There has continued to be a pretty fair movement in apples, though prices are hardly as well sustained as previously noted, owing to the anxiety of some holders to sell. Still the largest holders are firm: Baldwins, at $3.25@3.75; greenings, $3@3.25; Tolman sweets, $3@ 6; spies, $3.50@4.50; seconds, all varieties, $1.75@2.75; jobbing and choice lots. $1@1.50 more.

Very few strawberries are coming, and but few are expected till the ripening has got far enough north to find where the berries had not advanced far enough to be killed by the severe winter frost. Prices are nominal and at wide range.

The potato market is firm, and has advanced considerably. The markets in the country are reported firmer, with the supply cut down considerably by fre--ing during the severe winter weath Aroostook and eastern rose, hebrons al-Green mountains, 80c per bush; northern and western, 70@75c; Dakota red, 70c; Jersey sweet, $2.25@2.50 per bbl. Onlors have continued firm, with the best native selling at $3@3.75 per bbl. with the jobbers at $3.25@4.50. York state are quoted at $2.25@2.50 for large bbls, with small bbls at $1.75@2. Yellow turnips are firm at $1.50 per bush by the jobbers, and with wholesale lots at $1@1.25. White are jobbing at $2.

Beets are steady at $1.50@1.75 per bush; parsnips, $1.50; carrots, 75c. Celery is pretty firm, and jobbing at $2.50 per doz for good. Cauliflowers are quoted at $3@3.25 per crt. Spinach has continued very scarce, and, indeed, is expected to be higher. It sold at wholesale at $2.50 per bbl for Baltimore, and at $3.50 for Norfolk. It is jobbing at $3@

3.50, as to quality. Kale sold at wholesale at $1.50, and jobs at about $2 Beet greens are quoted at $1.50 per bush; dandellons, $1.50 per bush. Lettuce is rather scarce, and is quoted by the obbers at $1 per doz bchs. Cabbages have continued very firm, and are quoted at $2.25@2.50 per bbl.

per 100 lbs, as to quality. Mint is quoted at 15c a doz behs. Watercress is scarce at about $1 per doz; parsley, 40@50c per Cucumbers are easier, and sell at wide range, say $10@15 per 100 for native hothouse. Native rhubarb sells at 5@74

Squashes are pretty firm at $1.25@1.50